Primary Care Physician - Dr. Gary Trey:

Dr. Gary Trey is the primary care physician at that moment in time (main physician, GP) when gross medical negligence is taking place. He does understand the nature of the condition and the neurological underpinnings of the condition. He prescribes a anti-inflammatory medication (para-aminosalicylic acid) by my request. Its not the treatment that's effective or typical of my condition (plasmapheresis and dialysis would be required given the extent of the metal toxicity) in addition to blood and cerebrospinal fluid tests for toxicology, and brain and spine MRIs for neurology.

As a medical doctor he is required to write appointment by appointment notes to track the progress of the patient.

Dr. Gary Trey's office doesn't materialize any medical notes and there are no medical records of him being a primary care physician in the hospital, I believe in order to avoid involvement in the case that took place in the other Harvard Group Hospitals (Mass General and Beth Israel). There is an audio included titled "Dr. Gary Trey is Evasive about Records" in the USB that clarifies this (2-Videos and Images of Crimes Being Committed to Cause Harm > Evasiveness to Avoid Case > Dr. Gary Trey Being Evasive About Medical Records).

Though his personal notes and prescriptions are missing the other doctors who forwarded notes to Dr. Tray, typically write CC: to Gary Trey. Not all but many of the records from other doctors are missing.

RE: BC & BS of Massachusetts
Primary Care

Dear Mr. Tuna,

It has been eighteen months or longer since your last appointment with Dr. Gary Trey.

It is imperative that if you wish to retain Dr. Gary Trey as your PCP, you must see him on a yearly basis for a routine physical.

Please call the office at your earliest convenience to set up your routine physical appointment. We look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

Harvard Medical Group doctors have a tendency to support each other in cases of where clear medical negligence has taken place and this is an example.

There was clear medical negligence during the time period when Dr. Trey Gary was my primary care physician (main doctor, GP).
